DATE: February 6, 2009

The Honorable President and
Members of the City Council
City Hall, Room 400
100 N. Holliday Street

On February 5, 2009 the Baltimore City Sustainability Plan was approved by the Baltimore City Planning Commission. Copies of the staff report and the Baltimore City Sustainability Plan are attached. This memo serves as notice of adoption of the Plan by the Planning Commission and as an expression of support for CCB #09-0272, for the purpose of establishing a Sustainability Plan for the City of Baltimore. Please note, the draft of the Baltimore City Sustainability Plan approved by the Sustainability Commission on February 3, 2009 and by the Planning Commission on February 5, 2009 called for several minor changes/amendments to the sustainability legislation, CCB #09-0272. These minor changes/amendments are noted on the marked-up copy of the city council bill which is attached.

The Baltimore City Sustainability Plan will strengthen all three legs of our sustainability stool – People, Planet, and Prosperity – en route to helping Baltimore thrive for generations to come. The Plan is designed to lay out a broad, inclusive, and community-responsive sustainability agenda to complement Baltimore's existing Comprehensive Master Plan.

The Sustainability Plan highlights seven themes: cleanliness, pollution prevention, resource conservation, greening, transportation, environmental education and awareness, and the green economy. City Council Bill #09-0272 is the required legislation that will allow the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore to formally adopt the Baltimore City Sustainability Plan.

Thus, the Department of Planning wholeheartedly supports CCB #09-0272 and recommends that it be amended and passed by the City Council.

If you have any questions contact Mr. Wolde Ararsa, Acting Division Chief for Land Use and Urban Design at 410-396-4488.

REQUEST: Master Plan /Baltimore City Sustainability Plan

RECOMMENDATION: Approval and adoption

STAFF: Sarah Zaleski

PETITIONER: Baltimore Office of Sustainability and the Baltimore Commission on Sustainability

SITE/GENERAL AREA: Citywide

HISTORY

The Baltimore City Sustainability Plan is required as per Ordinance 07-488 which created the Baltimore Commission on Sustainability.

ANALYSIS

The Baltimore City Sustainability Plan will strengthen all three legs of our sustainability stool – People, Planet, and Prosperity – en route to helping Baltimore thrive for generations to come. The Plan is designed to lay out a broad, inclusive, and community-responsive sustainability agenda to complement Baltimore's existing Comprehensive Master Plan.

The Sustainability Plan will be adopted as an element of the Comprehensive Plan, but will also function as a stand-alone document. It will expand upon and complement the recommendations contained in the Comprehensive Plan, in some cases confirming and re-emphasizing elements, while in other areas filling in the gaps. The Sustainability Plan highlights seven themes: cleanliness, pollution prevention, resource conservation, greening, transportation, environmental education and awareness, and the green economy. The Comprehensive Plan focuses on schools, culture, community design, land use and economic development issues. All of these issues are important for a successful, sustainable Baltimore.

The sustainability plan's public engagement process, which ultimately engaged over 1,000 citizens over an eight month period, gathered and analyzed ideas, studied best practices, and developed aspirations for a more sustainable city. The process included input from average citizens, City agency personnel, environmental activists, and sustainability experts. The results of this process are the basis for the recommended goals and actions contained in the Sustainability Plan. To reach over 1000 people from all sections of the City, the public engagement process had multiple components—working groups, community conversations, a youth strategy, and a sustainability forum.

Through Working Group recommendations and community input, seven theme chapters were identified: Cleanliness, Pollution Prevention, Resource Conservation, Greening, Transportation, Education & Awareness, and the Green Economy. Within each chapter, between three and five specific goals are articulated, for a combined total of 29 Plan goals. Each of these goals is accompanied by between two and six recommended strategies. Each strategy is defined, with key timeframes, funding and implementation partners identified. Some of the goals set very specific targets and ambitious time frames within strategies. These were deliberately chosen to be ambitious for two reasons – the challenges before us require bold action, and we believe Baltimore can get there.

Staff notified over 35 community groups, over 30 Sustainability Ambassadors, numerous environmental organizations, our 619 member Office of Sustainability mailing list, and our 66 member Youth Advisory Group mailing list about the Planning Commission's consideration of the Baltimore City Sustainability Plan

A copy of the Sustainability Plan can be found on the Baltimore Office of Sustainability website: <http://www.baltimorecity.gov/government/planning/sustainability/>
