A COUNCIL RESOLUTION CONCERNING

1 Informational Hearing – Baltimore City Public School System – Transitional Years
2 Intervention Program

3 FOR the purpose of inviting the CEO and other representatives of the Baltimore City Public
4 School System to brief the City Council on the feasibility of creating a proactive intervention 5 program for transitional year students.

6 Recitals

7 By creating the Alternative Options model, the Baltimore City Public School System has 8 overhauled alternative programming for at-risk students and insured that those students receive 9 the services that they need. These services are specifically tailored to segments of the student 10 population, whether they are over-aged, dropouts, students with children, or have been given 11 extended suspensions or expulsions.

12 The City Council is encouraged by all of these efforts and new alternative forms of 13 programming. In addition to these efforts and programs, the Council believes that there should 14 also be a strong emphasis on two specific groups of students. Historically, the transitional years 15 of 6th and 9th grade have been where the school system begins to lose our most at-risk students.
16 Because of what can be a dramatic change of culture, certain students going from elementary to 17 middle school and middle to high school often become disengaged.

18 The Council requests that the Baltimore City Public School System tailor programs for 19 incoming students to both middle school and high school. The first step would be for 20 administrators in 5th grade and 8th grade to identify their most at-risk students. This would be 21 judged by factors such as attendance, suspensions, behavior issues, etc. The administrators 22 would then communicate the identified at-risk students to administrators at the new school.

23 In the summer of the student’s transitional year, administrators, teachers, and counselors
24 would meet with these students and their families in order to administer services that could help 25 the student with underlying issues, thus allowing a better adjustment to their new environment.
26 The school system could also build upon the partnerships that it already employs, such as with 27 the Health Department, Baltimore Substance Abuse Systems, and the Police Department’s Youth 28 Services Division to assist in providing services and proactively engaging these students.

EXPLANATION: Underlining indicates matter added by amendment.
Strike out indicates matter stricken by amendment.
