A RESOLUTION ENTITLED

1 A COUNCIL RESOLUTION concerning

2 Informational Hearing – Procurement Approval Process Study

3 FOR the purpose of requesting representatives of the Johns Hopkins Institute for Policy Studies,
4 the Baltimore Economy and Efficiency Foundation, and the Baltimore City Director of 5 Finance to report to the City Council on the recent Procurement Approval Process Study of 6 Baltimore City government.

7 Recitals

8 WHEREAS, The National Institute of Governmental Purchasing, in its procurement
9 management audit of the City of Baltimore in 2001, noted that the current thresholds in place
10 created a “slow and burdensome process” that is “cumbersome and considered an obstacle by 11 City agencies”.

12 WHEREAS, The Johns Hopkins Institute for Policy Studies was engaged by the Baltimore
13 Economy and Efficiency Foundation to comparatively analyze the procurement approval process
14 in Baltimore City, other home-rule Maryland counties, and selected cities around the country.

15 WHEREAS, The Johns Hopkins study found that:

- 16 • Baltimore City’s Charter includes far more prescriptive language than any other 17 home-rule locality examined.
- 18 • When municipal charters are not regularly reviewed and updated, inflation causes
19 specific codified dollar amounts to lose the relationship with economic conditions
20 that the charter’s framers intended.
- 21 • Sluggishness in the purchasing system imposes costs on all parties: agencies that need
22 goods and services to fulfill their public purpose; citizens who depend on government
23 services; and companies, particularly small ones, that seek to participate in delivering 24 goods and services to or on behalf of government.
- 25 • Through the unique institution of the Board of Estimates, the work of the City is done
26 in public.

EXPLANATION: Underlining indicates matter added by amendment.
~~Strike out~~ indicates matter deleted by amendment.

Council Bill 09-0164R

- The smallest contracts are not only most costly to the government, but also least profitable to small companies, which experience comparable transaction costs. Subcontracts on these small contracts are even less appealing.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF BALTIMORE, That the City Council requests representatives of the Johns Hopkins Institute for Policy Studies, the Baltimore Economy and Efficiency Foundation, and the Baltimore City Director of Finance to report to the City Council on the recent Procurement Approval Process Study of Baltimore City government.

SECTION 2. AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the Mayor, the Director of Finance, the Johns Hopkins Institute for Policy Studies, the Baltimore Economic and Efficiency Foundation, and the Mayor’s Legislative Liaison to the City Council.
