9 The Baltimore Economic Recovery Team (BERT) is a multi-agency team created to 10 coordinate, maximize, and monitor the funds that will come to Baltimore through the American 11 Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) passed by the President and Congress to address these 12 hard economic times by creating or retaining 3.5 million jobs nationwide, by providing funds for 13 transit projects, infrastructure improvements, affordable housing and school modernization, and 14 by increasing funding for workforce training and public safety.

15 The State of Maryland is expected to receive $3.8 billion dollars from ARRA, and it is 16 estimated that 66,000 jobs will be created or saved across the State. BERT will monitor the 17 funds Baltimore receives and maximize the dollars and jobs available to Baltimore’s residents
18 through the following objectives:

- 19 • Ensure that ARRA funds are used on projects and programs that will serve 20 Baltimore well now and for the future.
- 21 • Serve as the City’s clearinghouse for stimulus information.
- 22 • Maximize job opportunities for city residents, especially youth employment, and 23 identify skills training needs emerging from ARRA.
- 24 • Seek the best advice and ideas from citizens and partners in the human services, 25 economic, and community development communities.
- 26 • Aggressively pursue all opportunities for ARRA funds.
