A RESOLUTION ENTITLED

1 A COUNCIL RESOLUTION concerning

2 Violence Against Women – An Overlooked Public Health Crisis

3 FOR the purpose of inviting the Police Commissioner of the Baltimore Police Department, the 4 Health Commissioner of the Baltimore City Health Department, the Baltimore City State's 5 Attorney, the Director of the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Safety and Engagement, the 6 Executive Director of the Mayor's Office of Children and Family Success, the Sheriff of the 7 Baltimore City Sheriff's Office, and certain community-based organizations to appear before
8 the Baltimore City Council to discuss the rise in violence against women and what strategies 9 are being put in place to reverse this epidemic.

10 Recitals

11 In 2020, the Baltimore Police Department reported its highest number of female homicides in 12 at least a decade – or possibly ever – with nearly 50 female victims. The Police Department and 13 other experts have stated that some of the driving forces contributing to these incidents are 14 intimate partner violence, a rise in the number of women involved with the people or place where 15 violent crime is occurring, and random acts of violence. Intimate partner violence accounts for 16 21% of all violent crime. When guns are present, there is a 500% greater chance that the incident 17 will end up deadly.

18 The World Health Organization has stated that violence against women – particularly 19 intimate partner violence and sexual violence – is a major public health problem and a violation 20 of women's human rights. Population-level surveys based on reports from survivors provide the 21 most accurate estimates of the prevalence of intimate partner violence and sexual violence.
22 Research gathered by the organization from across 161 countries showed that an average of 1 in 23 3 women worldwide have been subjected to either physical or sexual intimate partner violence or 24 non-partner sexual violence in their lifetime. Intimate partner violence is the leading cause of 25 violence against women in the world, and it can lead to fatal outcomes like homicide and suicide.

26 Additionally, the health consequences associated with violence against women are wide 27 ranging and can lead to high social and economic costs for women, their families and society.
28 Being in an abusive relationship can cause serious short and long-term physical, mental, sexual, 29 and reproductive health problems for women.

Council Bill 21-0039R

1 In order to effectively address this problem, we must create a safety net for victims and 2 survivors in collaboration with prosecution, rehabilitation, and enforcement. This approach will 3 require a multi-disciplinary approach, but violence against women should be addressed as a 4 public health problem.
