2 FOR the purpose of inviting the Secretary, Maryland Department of Veteran Affairs and the 3 Director, Central Regional Resource Coordinator to share information regarding the services
4 and opportunities available to returning Baltimore City veterans; to describe the outreach 5 efforts to deliver the information to returning service men and women, and; to detail the 6 number and percentage of our veterans that are accessing services offered by private entities
7 and local, state and federal governments.

8 Recitals

9 The Maryland Department of Veterans Affairs was created by the state legislature in 1999 as 10 an executive agency with the mission of assisting veterans, active duty service members, their 11 families, and their dependents in securing benefits earned through military service. The 12 department's service mission includes providing representation to the U.S. Department of 13 Veteran Affairs and other federal, state, and local government agencies for benefits which may be 14 available to eligible individuals.

15 In June 2006, the Department's Outreach and Advocacy program was authorized by the 16 General Assembly. The Program ensures that veterans know what services, benefits, and 17 assistance the federal and State governments provide for them. Outreach and Advocacy informs 18 and educates veterans and their eligible dependents of business, tax, health care, disability, 19 pension and education benefits to which they might be entitled. The Program also keeps the 20 Governor and General Assembly informed on issues important to veterans that may require 21 gubernatorial or legislative action.

22 The Veterans Service and Benefits Program assists eligible veterans in applying for veteran
23 benefits. These benefits include education, home loans, insurance, pensions, and compensation
24 for service-related disabilities, as well as benefits for health care, burial, and surviving family
25 members. Through the Program, the Department's Service and Benefits Officers advise, assist 26 and represent Maryland veterans and their families seeking benefits. Veterans Benefits 27 Specialists help veterans develop, prepare, and submit claims for benefits. To achieve these 28 purposes, the Department operates service and benefits offices at various locations throughout 29 the State.

EXPLANATION: Underlining indicates matter added by amendment.
~~Strike out~~ indicates matter stricken by amendment.

Council Bill 12-0038R

1 The welcome to Maryland's Commitment to Veterans states that the outreach and referral 2 initiative is designed to serve those who have served our country by connecting veterans to 3 behavioral health services in a timely manner: "America could not succeed without the 4 dedication and sacrifice of our military professionals; however when they return from combat,
5 too many veterans are discovering an unfortunate reality. It is nearly impossible to see clearly
6 through complicated paperwork and an overburdened USVA [U. S. Department of Veterans
7 Affairs] system, let alone find medical services necessary to begin a new chapter of life outside 8 the armed forces."

9 The Baltimore Regional Office of the USVA serves 484,013 veterans living in the State of 10 Maryland, 2% of the national veteran population. The Regional Office's jurisdiction includes all
11 counties in the State, provides services at the VA Medical Center in Baltimore, Transition 12 Assistance throughout the State, and participates in a homeless veterans outreach program based 13 at the Maryland Center for Veterans Education and Training.

14 Four years ago, the Task Force to Study State Assistance to Veterans found that 15 approximately 1.6 million United States troops have served in Iraq and Afghanistan in the prior 16 five years. The Department of Health and Mental Hygiene estimated that at the time there were 17 approximately 15,000 OEF/OIF (Operation Enduring Freedom/Operation Iraqi Freedom)veterans
18 residing in the State. While the number of returning OEF/OIF veterans is small in comparison to 19 the overall numbers of veterans in the State, a large portion of these returning veterans are facing 20 significant challenges in successfully reintegrating into their communities.

21 Testimony presented before the federal Senate Veterans Affairs Committee on July 27, 2011, 22 Insights from Early RAND Research on Deployment: Effects on U.S. Service Members and Their 23 Families, shows that the problem continues to grow: "September 11, 2011 will mark ten years
24 since the terrorist attacks that precipitated the war on terrorism and the military operations in Iraq
25 and Afghanistan that continue today. During these ten years more than 2.2 million service 26 members from the active and reserve components have deployed for active duty...apart from 27 battlefield and diplomatic realities, another unique feature has been the public recognition of the 28 stresses borne by service members and their families in wartime and, equally important, the 29 recognition of invisible wounds that can haunt our service members who have deployed that can 30 follow them after they leave the military."

31 Women Veterans of America reports that women are the fastest growing segment of people
32 serving in the military. As their influence grows, so does the recognition of the special health 33 needs of women vets and those in active service. In response to the gender-specific needs of 34 women, the VA established medical and psychological services especially for women beginning
35 in 1988, and the VA's Women Veterans Health Strategic Health Care Group has grown 36 continually since then.

37 Women have sexual health and reproductive needs that can be more complicated and 38 sensitive than men's – some women who served in Vietnam learned only later that their close
39 proximity to the chemical Agent Orange was most likely responsible for their child's birth 40 defects. In addition to special case scenarios, women still have concerns about health issues that 41 all women face such as getting regular gynecological care and addressing susceptibility to 42 osteoporosis as they age.

Council Bill 12-0038R

1 Women are not only serving in the military in clerical and administrative capacities. More
2 and more they are seeing areas torn by war. This means that women veterans are developing 3 more and more mental illness symptoms that were previously only associated with male veterans.
4 Women who have been exposed to war zones may develop post-traumatic stress disorder
5 (PTSD). Women who have been the victim of sexual assault or rape may also develop PTSD.
6 The VA hospital system has developed counseling and therapy programs designed specifically 7 for the needs of women veterans who find themselves in the grip of mental illness.

8 We in Baltimore City honor our returning men and women veterans and their families, deeply 9 appreciate the sacrifices they have made in wartime, and pledge to assist them in securing the 10 health, psychological, educational, and employment services they require to successfully return to 11 civilian life in our communities.

12 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF BALTIMORE, That the 13 Secretary, Maryland Department of Veteran Affairs and the Director, Central Regional Resource 14 Coordinator are invited to share information regarding the services and opportunities available to 15 returning Baltimore City veterans; to describe the outreach efforts to deliver the information to 16 returning service men and women, and; to detail the number and percentage of our veterans that 17 are accessing services offered by private entities and local, state and federal governments.

18 AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of this Resolution be sent to the Mayor, the
19 Secretary, Maryland Department of Veteran Affairs and the Director, Central Regional Resource 20 Coordinator, the Lieutenant Governor, the Baltimore City Senate and House Delegation to the 21 Maryland General Assembly, and the Mayor's Legislative Liaison to the City Council.
